

KERR WON THE FINAL IN 200 METRES TO-DAY

Young Canadian Now an Olympic Champion—Canada's First Win in the Stadium—Kerr Said to Have Won by 9 Inches, With a Foot Between 2nd and 3rd.

200 METRES (FINAL). Kerr, Canada, 5 points. Cloughen, U.S., 3 points. Carville, U.S., 1 point.

STANDING HIGH JUMP. Every, United States, 5 points. Cloughen, Canada, 1 point. J. A. Miller, United States.

American Associated Press. London, July 23.—As the Olympic games draw toward a close interest in them increases, and fine weather, although late in coming, is now sending upon the great international contest for athletic supremacy, and, with the assistance of cheaper seats, is bringing out crowds of spectators to the Stadium.

Yesterday was the meeting which Derby Day in to be known as the final of the 100 metre sprint. In the eyes of the general public being considered the most important event of the meeting. Those who follow athletics, however, are just as keenly interested in the final of the two races which are to be run off to-day.

The first of these is the 200 metres flat, in which Kerr of Canada runs against Cloughen and Cloughen, United States, and Hawkins, United Kingdom. The Americans have feared Kerr more than the Englishman, but after two thrilling runs yesterday he may be slightly state.

The other final in which the eyes of the experts are turned is in the 100 metres flat race, in which Carpenter, Taylor, and Hobbling, United States, are against Cloughen in the British army, and described on the greatest quarter-mile the United Kingdom has had in recent years. English sporting writers have predicted a win for him and probably the establishment of a new record for the distance.

The standing high jump, with which the program opened this morning, is expected to last the greater part of the day. The semi-final of the high diving contest and the final of the 1,500 metre swim are on the program for to-day, and also the four-man heats of the 50 metres hurdles.

The Greco-Roman wrestling, light-weights up to 117 pounds, and the catch-as-catch-can matches between heavyweights up to 161 pounds, going on at midday, are to form part of the program for to-day. The only American entered in these events was Lee J. Talbot, and he was defeated in the first bout, catch-as-catch-can by O'Rourke of Great Britain.

The tribune of the Americans at the Stadium yesterday was the young South African who has appeared to have appeared to British sportsmen, and who is being discussed, most of the morning, in complimentary terms. The Standard says: "The Americans have shown a magnificent spirit in their defeat of the Canadian, and the young man who was the victor in the grand stand yesterday, the flag of their country would fly out of their way to praise their conqueror."

KEHR WON BY NINE INCHES. Led All the Way and Breasted the Title of the American. London, July 23.—The final in the 200 metres flat race was won by Bobby Kerr of Canada. Cloughen, United States, was second, and J. A. Miller, United States, was third. The time for the winner was 22.25 seconds. The four men in this race got away to a start, and Kerr quickly showed in the front, and although Cloughen made a magnificent start at the start, he was unable to catch the speedy Canadian, who pulled up to a halt at the end of the race. Cloughen led for a few feet, but Kerr was in the lead for the rest of the race.

AMERICAN WIN JUMP. Every Was the Best at 5 Feet 1—Greek Took the Title. London, July 23.—The final of the standing high jump was won by Every, United States. Cloughen, United States, was second, and J. A. Miller, United States, was third. The time for the winner was 5 feet 1 inch. The four men in this race got away to a start, and Every quickly showed in the front, and although Cloughen made a magnificent start at the start, he was unable to catch the speedy American, who pulled up to a halt at the end of the race.

Canadian Associated Press. London, July 23.—Taking a substantial lead in the early stages of the 200 metre final, Bobby Kerr just managed to hold off the determined challenge of Cloughen, winning by nine inches, with a foot between 2nd and 3rd.

Canada's victory was very popular generally. The officials and police, a score of Canadian spectators, and the victor, and carried him to the dressing-room, while others were in the Canadian flag was raised above "Old Glory."

At Burn, the Calgary Marathon Runner, Nearly Scalped by a Policeman. Canadian Associated Press. London, July 23.—The general opinion here seems to be that if not Cloughen, some other of the English will provide the victor in the Marathon the best Canadian or British being the choice.

Canadian Associated Press. London, July 23.—The Marathon draw there are 67 probable starters. In the first row are Simpson, Goldshere, Longboat, and Non-worthy in the front row.

Longboat, Fit as a Fiddle, and Idolized by British Public

Special Cable from a Staff Correspondent to The Toronto Star. London, July 23.—Longboat is at Windsor to-day and looks fit to run the race of his life. He says he has never trained before for any race as he has for this. He ran a final three miles to-day, and will rest up for the great Marathon to-morrow.

Longboat stripped to-day without a blemish. He is in perfect physical condition and sleeps like a baby. The consensus of opinion here is that either Longboat or Duncan, the English champion, will win to-morrow.

The Indian likes the course, but wants rain and rough weather. Longboat is a general favorite in London. He is recognized wherever he visits and is followed by crowds in the streets. The best price reported is five to one against Longboat, but money is scarce.

The winner to-morrow will average 5.46 for the mile. All the rest of the Canadian Marathon runners are as fit as fiddles. Simpson, the Peterboro Indian, will run a desperate race. Lou E. Marsh.

QUEBEC WARMED UP TO PRINCE THIS MORNING

And Chooed Him Lustily as He Went on His Visit to the Floots. Photographers are busy taking snapshots of him—visitors still arriving in great streets.

By a Staff Correspondent. Quebec, Que., July 23.—Quebec was alive to-day. The streets this morning for the first time in the forenoon of the day gave indication that the public appreciated the remarkable nature of the festivities so carefully planned for their benefit.

The Prince had a good night's rest after his first day ashore. He rose early, had a hearty breakfast in his own quarters, and was, if anything, a little ahead of time. At ten-thirty he was whirled off in an automobile hearing his crest and motto "Ich Dien" and with practically no ceremonial descended into Lower Town, and went on his distinguished bright run launch to the flagship of the three nations. Most of them were unaware of the Prince's intention to pay naval visits, and a small proportion indeed caught even a glimpse of him.

"There Goes the Prince" would cry someone, and immediately there would be a rush. The detectives guarding the prince were not very far off, but they were in civilian costumes. If any person, not a well-known crank, were disposed to harm the Prince he would have a thousand sure opportunities in Quebec. All that can be done by the slugs of any value is to catch a well-known dangerous character. About the presence of those, or their absence, the Diplomatic Secret Service men know better than to talk.

Some Americans joined in heartily, too, for our consuls being interested in a few things they have not got used to, and the crowd of the Prince's admirers, and it may be not by the Prince himself. At the 11th top the troops parading at the muster review of to-morrow morning's review were passing, but a way was opened through the crowds for the Prince and his entourage, and it may be not by the Prince himself.

It is in such cases that the value of the Star's Lost and Found column is especially appreciated. There was an incident of such a case in yesterday's paper, which contained the following advertisement among the dozens of others:

LOST—Brown nixx baggie, carried by head, between Yonge and Queen's Park. Valued as Koopsake. Reward, Star Office.

The baggie was found by Miss A. Thompson of 21 Grosvenor street, who came upon it in Queen's Park yesterday. She had a pretty good idea that it would be advertised in The Star's Lost and Found column, and she was not disappointed. She immediately returned it to the Star's office, and by her promptness secured yesterday's prize dollar. Particulars of this daily offer on page four of this issue.

CRAWLED HALF MILE FOR AID FOR HIS DROWNING COMRADES

Cameron Exhausted When He Reached Bank of the Montreal River. BLACK GOT A FATAL BLOW Probably Struck a Boulder—Body Brought to Toronto and Buried.

After two days' dragging of the water below the rapids, the body of Bryce M. Black, the young Toronto man who was drowned in the Montreal River near Coblenz Sunday last, was recovered yesterday afternoon, and brought to the city on the evening train. The body was accompanied by William Black, an elder brother, and taken to the family home, 287 Berkeley, from which the funeral will take place this afternoon.

Mr. Black, who is a big, well-built man of about twenty-five years, seemed completely broken up by the terrible experience of searching for his brother's body.

"It has been an awful time," he said this morning, "and was about as much as I could stand. Poor fellow! I expected to be studying with him in the School of Science in a few months, and there he lies downstairs, drowned. It's awfully hard."

AN OWNER WAS FINED, ACTS OF THE TENANT

So He Appeals—Test of the New Law Regarding Liquor in Hotels. On behalf of John Bradley, of Little Current, Manitoulin, James Haverston K.C., applied to Mr. Justice Clute this morning, and was granted leave to have cause shown why the conviction of $20 and costs against him should not be quashed.

Bradley is the owner of a hotel in Owen Sound, and some weeks ago a raid was made upon the premises. As a result the owner was fined by Magistrate Cresser of Owen Sound, but the tenant was not even brought into the matter.

The grounds upon which Mr. Haverston based his arguments were that the new Act does not mean to say that an owner out of possession can be held responsible for the actions of a tenant in possession, and that if the Act does mean that, it is unconstitutional.

The St. Andrew's Market property has been a white elephant on the City's hands for some years, and the Property Commissioner has been wondering what it could be used for to make it profitable for the city. At present the market is used as a storage place for the City's surplus, and other purposes.

Must Get Legislation. Under the Act of gift to the city from the Crown, the property has to be used for public purposes only, and if used for any other purpose it will revert to the Crown. The Legislative Committee of the City Council applied to the Legislature to have the terms of the deed of gift changed, with a view to using the property for other than market purposes, but the Attorney-General stated that the matter should be dealt with by the City Council, and the Property Commissioner will bring the matter to the attention of that body.
